Did You Know?

Pesky potholes.

The transition between seasons can often include navigating a bumper crop of potholes – craters of varying sizes that form in roads after water seeps in. Pothole damage accounts for nearly 500,000 vehicle insurance claims every year. Farmers Insurance recommends the following tactics to help avoid potholes:

Slow down and anticipate potholes. Driving more slowly can improve your reaction time and can generally reduce the magnitude of damage that occurs if you hit a pothole.

Don't tailgate. Leaving more room between your vehicle and the car ahead of you is always a good idea. But this strategy comes in very handy at the height of pothole season because you are more apt to spot and safely navigate around a pothole.

Watch out for masked potholes. After a rainstorm, potholes can fill with water, making them harder to notice and their depth difficult to judge. When in doubt, safely avoid mysterious puddles.

When it comes to insurance, membership has its benefits! Farmers Insurance Hawaii offers an auto insurance program with exclusive Credit Union rates for Ewa FCU members. Please call today to get a quote at 1-800-597-5994 and to find out how much you could save with Farmers Insurance Hawaii.
